Who Was Behind Those Masks?

Have you ever gone camping in a tent and heard	10
the trash can lids banging in the middle of the night? Did	22
you get the shivers listening to the noise of the bandits as	34
they went through one trash can after another? Did you	44
take a peek to see them? Who was behind those masks?	55
This masked bandit who likes to tip over your trash	65 can is one funny fellow. It's a raccoon! Raccoons like to	76 run and play and dig into this and that! Digging is one	88
way for them to get food.	94
What do raccoons like to eat? They like seeds,	103 grapes, fish, corn, worms, grubs, nuts and eggs. They even	113
like to eat snails and they can catch fish with their fingers!	125
Can you catch one with your hands like they do?	135
The next time you get to go camping and hear loud	146 noises, it just might be the masked bandits! This time, get	157
some sleep and ignore them!	162
